

SERVICE PROVISION

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS

Associate Membership

Medilink aims to help members become more innovative, competitive and profitable. Associate Membership gives you access to our comprehensive industry knowledge, events and services.

As an Associate member, you will be advised of opportunities to develop your business and knowledge of the sector. You will have opportunities to engage with the Medilink network at events, receive e-bulletins and updates, and facilitated introductions with other members (mutually agreed).

Associate Membership is available to:

- Life Science businesses, for example: medical devices/technology (including IT and software), pharmaceutical and medical biotechnology companies, from outside the Medilink regions (North West, Yorkshire & Humber, West Midlands, East Midlands, South West and North East - see www.medilinkuk.com for details)
- Non-Life Science businesses that are linked to the sector, for example: professional services, (legal, accountancy) and contractors.
- University and NHS organisations at departmental level

Associate Members will receive the following:

- Access to an extensive Life Science network of business, clinical and academic professionals
- Medilink News publications, with opportunities to contribute news stories
- Medilink e-bulletins
- UK Life Sciences magazine (bi-annually)
- Company name and website address on the four Medilink websites and on MedilinkUK.com
- Reduced rates at Medilink and partner events (where applicable)
- Use of the Medilink member logo
- Membership certificate
